

Author Guidelines

Submission

Manuscripts are invited and should be submitted by one of the authors of the manuscript through the online system. Regardless of the source of the word-processing tool, only electronic PDF (.pdf) or Word (.doc, .docx, .rtf) files can be submitted.

Submissions by anyone other than one of the authors will not be accepted. The submitting author takes responsibility for the paper during submission and peer review. If for some technical reason submission through the online system is not possible, the author can contact the editor, Luuk Van Waes (luuk.vanwaes@uantwerpen.be) for support.

Procedure

Submit your article electronically via the JoWR publication server. If you are not yet registered as a user of the publication server, you need to register first as a new user.

Procedure

1. Activate the JoWR Publication server.
2. Select 'Log in' and identify yourself as an author.
3. Select the 'JoWR Repository' and click 'Open'.
4. Select 'Submit publication'.
5. Complete the submission form. Enter the title, each author in a separate line (incl. ORCID number), the reference as it will occur in your publication list (Author, A. (submitted). Title paper. Journal of Writing Research, xx(x). pp. xx-xx) and the keywords.
6. Upload your files.
 - a. Author identification file: title paper, authors, author details (affiliation and corresponding author)
 - b. Paper (anonymous)
 - c. You can upload up to three extra files. All kinds of media are welcomed (text, tables, figures, photos, videos).
7. Confirm by clicking 'OK'.

After submission, your article will be checked by the editors and you will receive an email that we received your paper.

Terms of submission

Papers must be submitted on the understanding that they have not been published elsewhere (except in the form of an abstract or as part of a published lecture, review, or thesis) and are not currently under consideration by another journal published by any other publisher. The submitting author is responsible for ensuring that the article's publication is an original publication that has been approved by all the other coauthors. It is also the author's responsibility to ensure that the articles emanating from a particular institution are submitted with that institution's approval. With respect to duplicate/fragmented publication in which data from a previous publication are used again, we follow the APA guidelines. Further correspondence and proofs will be sent to the author(s) before publication unless otherwise indicated. All papers are submitted under the condition that authors accept that their paper might be edited for readability. All enquiries concerning the publication of accepted papers should be addressed to: luuk.vanwaes@uantwerpen.be.

Linguistic editing	The journal's language of publication is English. Published articles need to meet high academic writing standards. If English is not your mother tongue, please have your text read, edited and proofread by a native speaker of English before submission. The JoWR community offers a special service: community members will act as linguistic editors in the final pre-publication stage. However, this service is only available for papers that were already edited linguistically prior to submission.
Manuscript Format	The Journal of Writing Research follows the APA guidelines (APA Manual, 6th edition). The second part of this document includes general and more specific guidelines for the different sections of your paper.
Manuscript length	As we are an e-journal, we don't have strict conditions with respect to the manuscript's maximum length. However, we strive at publishing concise reports (in principle maximum 10 000 words). Additional materials can be published in the repository as separate files.
Consent form	Upon publication, you will be asked to complete a consent form, giving us the permission to publish your article open access under Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial-No Derivative Works 3.0 Unported license.

General guidelines

Title page	The following information should be included on the title page and should be submitted as a separate file: <ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Paper title▪ Full author names▪ Professional affiliation for all authors▪ Email addresses for all authors▪ Abstract (max. 200 words)▪ Keywords (max. 5)▪ Contacting author and full (institutional) mailing address▪ Suggestion for running head (header)
Article	Repeat the information of the title page on the second page, but remove all references to the authors. The following sections should be included: <ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Paper title▪ Abstract▪ Keywords▪ Body▪ References (APA-formatted, incl. DOI-numbers)
Length	Because we are a 'digital only' journal we decided not to set a maximum length for manuscripts. Of course, we strive at publishing articles that are written as clearly and concisely as possible.
Figures and Tables	Include figures and tables in the appropriate place in your article. For the formatting of figures and tables (incl. captions), follow the APA guidelines.
Figures	Add a separate zip-file with all the figures you included in a high-resolution graphic format (e.g. tiff or eps).
Permissions	Written permission to reproduce all tables, figures, or quotations over 500 words and non-written materials from sources for which the author does not hold the copyright, and all quotations of ANY length from newspapers, radio, TV broadcasts, or magazines must be submitted with the manuscript. Permission must indicate the original author's consent for electronic reproductions of this material. If written permission has not been obtained by the time your manuscript reaches the final draft stage, copyrighted materials will be paraphrased or removed from the paper.
Copyright	Open Access authors retain copyright of their papers, which permits unrestricted use, distribution and reproduction in any medium, provided that the original work is properly cited.

Sections of the paper

Title	Guidelines for titles and subtitles: <ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Use sentence case.▪ Separate title and subtitle with a colon.▪ Start the subtitle with a capital letter. Running head: Provide a suggestion for the running subtitle that will appear in the header of the odd pages (max: 45 characters).
Authorship information	Provide the following information about the authors: <ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Full author names▪ Professional affiliation▪ Email addresses▪ Contacting author and full (institutional) mailing address
Abstract	The abstract section should be independent, citation-free, and should not exceed 200 words.
Keywords	Please include no more than five keywords that reflect the paper's content, below the abstract.
Body of the article	Please adhere to the following formatting guidelines: <ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Use single line spacing.▪ Use no more than three hierarchical levels for section headings.▪ Only use italics to emphasize or mark items in your text (not bold or underlined).▪ Indent the start of a new paragraph 1 cm (tab); do not indent after a heading, table, figure, or bulleted list.
Notes	Only use end notes in your text and limit the number of notes to a strict minimum.
Acknowledgements	All acknowledgments (if any) should be included at the very end of the paper before the references and may include supporting grants, presentations, and so forth.
References:	Guidelines for the reference section: <ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ The references section appears at the end of the article, beginning on a separate page, after the text (and notes).▪ Authors are responsible for ensuring that the information in each reference is complete and accurate according to the APA style guide (6th edition).▪ Add the DOI-reference for those publications that are DOI-indexed. You can check your complete reference list for missing DOI-numbers by pasting it in the Simple Text Query Form freely provided by CrossRef.▪ The reference list may only contain references which were cited in the paper; all other references will be automatically removed.▪ If you include reference titles in a language other than English, please add, a translation of the title in English, between [brackets] directly after the title.
Tables	Guidelines for the tables in your article: <ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ All tables must be included in the document itself.▪ Add a numbered caption and a descriptive title above all tables.▪ Follow APA guidelines to format your tables; vertical lines should not be used.▪ Use the table-function of your word processor.▪ Do not use extra spaces to align data or headings in your table; align numbers to the right-hand side of the column or on a decimal character.▪ Refer to each table at least once in the running text (see Table x).

Figures	<hr/> Guidelines for figures: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Include each figure in your manuscript in the appropriate place. ▪ Add a numbered caption and a descriptive title below each figure. ▪ Provide each figure in a high resolution format (tiff or eps) in a separate file and compress all the figures in a zip or rar file. ▪ Refer to each figure at least once in the running text (see Figure x). <hr/>
Audio and video	Guidelines for audio-visual materials: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Upload audio and video material and illustrations separately to the JoWR Publication server. ▪ Please inform the editors explicitly about the restrictions of the formats used. ▪ Please make an explicit reference to the audio-visual materials in the running text [e.g. See videoclip [add filename here]]. <hr/>
Appendices	Add appendices at the end of the paper. Indicate them as Appendix A, Appendix B in the running text. We encourage authors to include coding schemes, measuring instruments, etc. to share with the writing research community. <hr/>
WritingPro	WritingPro (http://www.writingpro.eu) is a knowledge center for writing process research. The Journal of Writing Research closely collaborates with this initiative. The main aim of this website is to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ bring together expertise ▪ share expertise ▪ develop expertise ▪ make expertise more visible ▪ establish writing research methods We appreciate and strongly support all your efforts in posting a description of your study and/or collected data on this website. It only takes five minutes to complete the provided forms and it makes your work more visible and accessible for the writing community. Crossreferences between JoWR and WritingPro are provided. <hr/>